GOVERNOR APPOINTS REGISTRAR OF CONTRACTORS DIRECTOR

PHOENIX – Governor Janet Napolitano announced Fidelis V. Garcia as director of the Arizona Registrar of Contractors (ROC). For the past year, Garcia has served as the acting director of the ROC.

“Fidelis has shown great leadership at the Registrar including efforts to improve the Agency’s technology to better serve consumers as well as licensees,” Governor Napolitano said. “I know he will continue to be an innovative director and lead the department in a positive direction.”

Garcia served as a judicial officer for more than four years with the City of Phoenix Municipal Court before coming to the ROC in 2005. As a judicial officer he presided over large and complex cases cited under Phoenix City ordinances. Prior to serving the city of Phoenix, he was a presiding judge on the Guadalupe Municipal Court for two years. Garcia is a native of Phoenix and received his bachelor’s degree and Juris Doctorate from Arizona State University.
